

Inzenius remote timekeeping with direct mobile GPRS network link back to the Inzenius Rostering to Payroll delivers for No Fuss Solutions.

The management of No Fuss were concerned about the lack of control over employee worked times and costs when compared to their plans. The solution to the problem was delivered by the team at Inzenius.

No Fuss is required to plan labor allocation to many different events and activities all around Australia. The difficulty in the capturing of employee and contractors actual time worked at specific events and locations was complex requiring a complex paper trail from rostering to employee timesheets having to be returned to head office for verification and manual payroll data compilation and entry. Many timesheets were late, incomplete or missing and not checked adequately against the original plans.

“Inzenius Human Resources Management, Rostering with its remote Timekeeping technology solved the problem for us. It was the best I have seen for an event and job-based business substantially streamlining our processes of staff management and costs. It allows for simplified roster development, time validation, through to automated payroll. We save a lot of administration time and labour costs with Inzenius.” Geoff Tucker, Director and CEO No Fuss Solutions.

No Fuss Solutions is typical of many businesses that need to schedule their staff to a number of jobs and cost them appropriately in each pay period. The difficulty of maintaining costs to plan creating time and cost blowouts is solved with Inzenius.
